Busch Hall was about 2/3 full when President John Green opened the Annual General Meeting (AGM) at 2 p.m. Walt Gilson led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance and Chaplain Shipe gave the invocation after reading a brief Biblical passage advocating that there are no enemies and that all should work together.

All current Board members were present with the exception of Jan Werner. Also present were Ray Hill, Jim Weigand our Treasurer, our Corporate Counsel and our CPA.

Green thanked the various committees responsible for planning the AGM and asked for a motion to approve the minutes of the 2018 meeting. The minutes were approved with one opposition vote.

As there was no official 2019 AGM, the notes of that gathering were merely included FYI.

Weigand gave his Treasurer's report showing that the resort was in good financial standing.

Linda Smith reported for the Nominating Committee stating that 14 resumes had been received resulting in eight candidates for six Board positions. No nominations were received from the floor. With well over 300 Proxies already received by the Office and the number of people present, it was stated that we had achieved a quorum and the meeting could proceed.

Retiring Board members Carole Young and John Freed were presented with gifts in appreciation of their service.

John Green then gave his President's message:

Photos by Sandi Walsh

The new Board members are: Leo Lejeune Director 3 year term, Katherine Shawver Director 2 year term, Linda Smith Corporate Secretary, Rosita Williams Director 2 year term, Recording Secretary, Callie Zak 1st Vice President, Pam Wood Director 3 year term, Linda Gelinias 2nd Vice President, Randy Doell Director 2 year term and John Green President.

Jim Weigand, Treasurer, gives his financial report.

Green began his presentation by reminding residents that TR was founded as a volunteer community by a group of people with common interests and goals. However, Green felt that TR was currently faced with a number of threats to the continuation of that philosophy.

Pasco County is currently undergoing considerable growth. The property adjacent to TR on Johnston Road is now for sale. It is unknown what that property will be used for once a sale is completed. There is also another RV park being planned for Lake Iola Board President John Green presents his President's Report.

Road, which is just down the road from TR. Recent studies have placed pressure on Pasco County to reduce restrictions on new growth.

Green feels it is important for TR to remain debt free, keep up our cash reserves, remain current with our maintenance on both our water and sewer systems and maintain good relations with our local community. In other words, we must work to keep and increase the value of TR.

Green reviewed perceived threats to TR with respect to some Resolutions which have been presented to the Board for their approval next year, as previously discussed at the TR Town Meeting.

Green spoke briefly about the events that occurred at the 2019 AGM. He stated that it was found that the ballot, as printed, did not meet the requirements of our By-Laws in that Candidates and Resolutions were not properly separated. On the advice of Counsel, the Board cancelled the meeting.

At the conclusion of his address, Green opened the floor to questions. There were no questions posed.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 2:45 p.m. with Green advising that the result of the voting would be posted as soon as tallies were complete.

Results of the voting are as follows:

Leo Lejeune	421
Pam Wood	396
John Green	383
Katherine Shawver	359
Randy Doell	358
Rosita Williams	333
Lisa Cahill	187
Ken Lewis	149

Based on votes, Lejeune, Wood and Green won three year terms and Shawver, Doell and Williams won two year terms.

The good news is that only 94 of the ballots or 16.8% were voted by proxies assigned to the Board.

A total of 559 ballots were cast, 394 before the meeting and 165 at the meeting.

Important closure announcement

by Margaret Emmetts

As a result, the format of this paper is changed. We have made every attempt possible to publish as much information as we are able under the limited time constraints imposed upon us.

Please, please, wash your hands, wash your hands, avoid crowds and keep healthy until we see you next year.

Please check the Post Office Bulletin Board for further information.

Some articles in this issue of the paper may discuss upcoming events. Be aware that this information may be changed under the current circumstances.

Activity Affairs

by Jeri Miller
Activity Coordinator

And now the end is near (again) – Seriously, this is my last article for the 2019-20 TR season. As always, thanks need to go out to all TR residents and especially our Chairpersons for another successful year. You all are deserving of these thanks for working so hard to make TR special. Without your leadership and willingness to share your time and talent TR would be just another “park.” It has been a wonderful season thanks to all of you.

JERI MILLER

Activity Update Forms - In the next week, the 2020-2021 Activity Book draft will be posted in the Post Office Lobby. Please look at it carefully. This will be the last time for making changes to the updates before many of us leave for our up-north homes.

Also, some of our activities have blurbs at the end of the book. Let me know if there are any changes that should be made that weren't reported on your Activity Update Form. Didn't get very many of these, yet.

Activity Treasurers reports – It is very important that this report is sent to the office at the end of your activity's season. The money raised this year should also go to the office to be held until your arrival in the fall. Our year-end is July 31, but this form is needed now.

Help Wanted – Sound Audio Organizer needed to delegate various volunteers for the different groups that are in need of sound equipment throughout TR. This is not a sound booth job. This would be a November through March job.

Busch Hall jobs on Sunday nights – This is another November through March job. Activities would let the new leaders know when they need a table set up for their event – ticket sales, church food drives, etc. These tables need to be set up before 5:45 p.m.

Badge making - Along with all of the Sunday needs is badge making. This is a fun job. You get to welcome new people to TR along with residents moving on up, losing their badge or putting it through the wash. This is also a November through March job.

Spotlight on Sunday night – This should be a two-person position and again November through March. My favorite, for sure. Believe it or not, this is an interesting job.

TR Road Riders (Motor-cycle) – This is another organizational position. Participants are willing to give ideas on where the bi-weekly rides should go. When decided, one person plans the ride and is the leader for the day. Can't imagine this activity dying.

Horseshoe Pitching – Again this season absolutely no one ever showed to participate. What is wrong here? We grew up pitching horseshoes. The court has been kept up but will need a bit of work to keep it set up for play. Need a chairperson and players.

Joker/Monday needs a leader. I would guess that you Joker people know all about this one. Just get me a name, please.

Mega thanks –Again - I want to thank The TR Times for working with me and my writing skills. The editors do a great job of making this column look good. Thanks, especially for being there for the moments when my mind just went blank.

To all our TR residents - Thanks for your past and future dedication toward the lifestyle which TR has to offer. It only works because of all of you. I hope each of you has a good summer whatever that might be for you.

Every season presents new challenges for the Activity Coordinator. I have to say that it has been a privilege to get to know and work with so many of you. I wish that I could personally thank all of you but that is not possible. This year could go down as the year of the most “scheduling” changes. Now, the Activity Book for 2020-2021 is in the works. Never in my 20 years has there been so many requests for new activities. Lots of music, dancing, dinners, church related events, sewing, mats for the homeless, provisions for the needy and it goes on and on. Looking forward to working with all of you in the fall. Just pray for there to be space for all. Like I always say, “it always works” and it always has.

Final thought – Remember - As always, you have the most important role in the active life we enjoy here at TR. See you in the fall, good Lord willing and the creek don't rise.

Last Bonfire this season is coming

by Phyllis Zitzer

Come join us starting at 6 p.m. on Saturday, March 28, for a fun night at the Snack Shack Picnic Pavilion. The nearby Fire Pit is a lovely spot by Vanishing Lake. First we will share a potluck supper at the Snack Shack picnic area, then move to the Fire Pit area. Bring a dish to pass, your drinks, dishes, utensils, your chair, your favorite campfire song, any musical instruments you play and your neighbors. Thanks to all the musicians who make the evening so special.

In the past we have told stories and jokes, sang songs, and just had a great time. How long you stay is up to you. We'll provide beef and turkey hot dogs/rolls and everything you need to make S'Mores.

There will be a donation jar for these items.

Please RSVP so we know we'll have enough hot dogs and S'Mores. Do this by signing up on the list in Busch Hall, TR Activities Board, or contacting Phyllis Zitzer at 717-379-3054 or pjz-itzer@gmail.com. Come and join the fun and make new friends!

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream

by Rosita Williams

We experienced the gentle, happy “screams” each Sunday evening before the Busch Hall Sunday Night Entertainment! The Ice Cream Social team has had a wonderful time providing premium ice cream, frozen yogurt and no-sugar added ice cream to our fellow residents and guests. We’ve been able to serve up some of your favorite and most requested flavors, and we’ve tried to introduce some new flavors from time to time as well. Although we may not have been able to please all of you, please know that we have tried to do our best to give you “yummies for your tummies.”

For next season, along with the regular types of frozen dessert mentioned above, we are looking at the possibility of adding a gluten-free option for the members of our community who may have an issue with gluten. Stay tuned for more information about that when our new season begins.

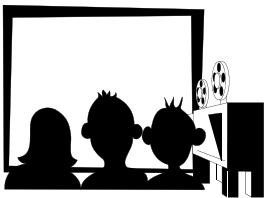

As with everything else, prices for ice cream and the necessary supplies have increased throughout the year. Consequently, we will need to increase our purchase price next season. One serving of ice cream will now cost $1. That increase will allow us to continue to provide the quality product we’ve all become accustomed to while still enabling us to successfully continue the fundraising effort that has been our tradition for many years.

With many of you preparing to leave TR, please accept our sincerest thanks for your weekly support this season. May your time away from here be filled with happy and sunny days. We wish you safe and enjoyable travels.

Movies in Theaters: Emma was great cinema and I urge you all to go see it. It’s Jane Austen’s story of a beautiful but controlling lady in Regency, England. The costumes, manners and dancing are so well done, you will be sure to hear about them at next year’s Academy Awards.

Onward is a drama/fantasy in theaters from Disney’s Pixar starring the voices of Tom Holland (Spiderman), Chris Pratt (Jurassic World), and Octavia Spencer (The Help). It is an animated classic adventure story for adults as well as children. It will touch your heart.

Some people will not go to animated films thinking they are akin to cartoons. If that is you, I’m sad to say you will miss out on some special, heartfelt and wonderful stories. Consider these animated films:

UP was a wonderful story of found family and love with adult themes of grief and greed, but loads of fun. SQUIRREL!

How to Train Your Dragon had a terrific plot involving bravery, friendship and loyalty. There is a wonderful subplot about overcoming prejudice and stifling traditions.

Coco dealt with death and the afterlife and how your legacy can impact and live on in the memories of those in the living world.

So, don’t turn up your nose at animated films! Go and enjoy them, with your grandchildren or even by yourself!

Mysteries Book Club a no-go

by Nan Feeney Lance

Lack of interest and a NO vote at Book Browsers last meeting resulted in a decision not to start a Mysteries Book Club at TR. Several readers enjoy mysteries but feel there is not enough time to read both a novel and a mystery every two weeks.

If you are a reader of mystery books, here is a list of recommended books from the Hugh Embry Mystery Book Club at the Dade City Library from their 2020 season.

Last Breath by Robert Bryndza, Murder in an English Village by Jessica Ellicott, The Lost Man by Jane Harper, Lowcountry Bookshop by Susan Boyer, Night

Moves by Jonathan Kellerman, Nine Perfect Strangers by Liane Moriarty, Run Away by Harlan Coben, A Minute to Midnight by David Baldacci, Garden of Lamentation by Deborah Crombie, The Stranger Inside by Lisa Unger and 19th Christmas by James Patterson and Maxine Paetro.

After much discussion and voting, Book Browsers has selected the following six books for their 2021 season.

1/13 The Only Woman in the Room by Marie Benedict. A Bio of Hedy Lamarr.

1/27 The Dutch House by Ann Patchett. Five decades of family and a house.

2/10 The Guest Book by Sara Blake. Three generations’ mistakes and betrayals.

2/24 This Is How It Always Is by Laurie Frankel. How one family deals with a transgender son/daughter.

3/10 The Invention of Wings by Susan Monk Kidd. Abolitionist Sisters and their slave, Hetty.

3/24 The Chilbury Ladies Choir by Jennifer Ryan. Ladies in a small English village deal with WWII with courage and camaraderie.

Book Browsers begin on Wednesday, Jan. 13 at 2 p.m. in Citrus West. Meetings continue every second and fourth Wednesday.

Goodbye, farewell and be well

This is the last paper of the season for The TR Times. Usually at this point I hope everyone has a wonderful summer with family and friends up north for those of you who will leave.

However, the end of this season is quite different. We are in the grip of a panic over COVID-19. Our Canadian residents have for the most part left the park earlier than scheduled. Since our northern neighbors have to purchase rather expensive health insurance when they leave Canada, there is concern as to whether that insurance would provide coverage if they were to contract the virus while in the states; A very reasonable concern. To be on the safe side, many have opted to return home.

Those of us who just drive or fly to northern states still have concerns about travel. Do we have to stop in a motel and in so doing will we be exposed to anything? Flying puts us in even closer proximity to others.

What ever decisions you make, we hope and pray that you all will stay healthy. Have a safe trip home by whatever means.

We look forward to seeing you next season.

God bless. mre

The Servant’s Plow
The road going home

by Chaplain Anthony Shipe

I cannot believe the time that has come and gone. Spring is arriving and many of our part-time residents are already planning their journey home. I remember the days of helping my grandfather get from TR to northeast Ohio every year in the spring. He would load a van with clothes and tools. There would be bags of snacks and plenty of gospel music for the ride home.

The one thing that we did before getting seated in the van was join hands and pray for the Lord’s protection and guidance before making our journey home. That has left an impression on my life and is something I do before any trip. Our travels were enjoyable and usually incident free.

gentleman and does not go where He is not invited.” The necessity of prayer before the trip shows what level of importance God has in our lives. I can always use His presence in my life no matter where the road leads.

As chaplain of the park, I have had the wonderful privilege to minister and serve you and your families. I have met many new folks this year and have enjoyed reconnecting with familiar friends. The seasons at Travelers Rest are short but my work here continues into the summer offering my services for worship and support to our full-time residents. I hope to see many of you return next fall. As you know, I can always be reached by phone, text or email.

May the road ahead
be uncluttered and guarded
May the sunshine of God’s grace brighten the skies
Trust His plan climbing the hills and down through the valleys
May His hands direct angels along your side over the plain
He will whisper sweet echoes in the winds that blow
Lift the sails of your heart and capture His hovering Spirit
Keep singing praises for the Lord to hear and He will come near
If you call upon that Mighty Name;
your paths will be made straight.

TR Travel News

DAN AND SHARON GILBERT ZILE

by Sharon Gilbert Zile and Dan Zile, Tour Directors

As dedicated travelers do, we have already begun to anticipate the travels of next season. The reservation process has begun and the response has been very positive. Already, we have sufficient numbers to commit to a full bus for the Dec. 11 Singing Trees, Jan. 21 Six Bridge Intracoastal Yacht Cruise and Feb. 24 Kennedy Space Center trip. We are still accepting reservations for each of these trips as well as the Feb. 7-12 trip to Biloxi with New Orleans bus trip. The March 2021 day trip will be announced in December in order to allow new TR residents to participate. Despite being a top survey request, the planned Mississippi River Cruise in 2021 has been cancelled due to lack of response.

Your Tour Directors will be departing soon for personal memory-building adventures. A genealogical journey, the National Parks of the Southwest and the Airstream International Rally are among our travel plans. TR Travel reservation checks can be delivered to us at #2540 in March but will need to be mailed to Kelly at B & D Travel beginning in April. Alternatively, reservations may be secured by calling the travel agency and paying by credit card, however there will be a credit card fee added. Flyers will be available on the Busch Hall bulletin board throughout the summer. Questions are welcomed by a phone call to either Dan or Sharon, but we just might return your call later if we're busy making memories!

May all your memories be treasures of the heart.

Calling all cooks

by Margaret Emmetts
We have many excellent cooks in the park, so we thought it might be a good idea to introduce a column to have a way for these cooks to share their knowledge. The TR Times will be publishing recipes submitted by residents, as space in the paper permits.
If you have a favorite recipe you would be willing to share, please submit it to the paper. The recipe may be placed in our box in Busch Hall or emailed to us. Please remember to include your name, phone number or lot number with the recipe so that we can contact you if we have any questions.

Birding Activity

Spring iz sprung, the grass is riz

by Norm Eden

And yes, we do wonder where some of our boidies iz as we near the end of March with our total for the season so far being 64 which is a little above our eight-year average of 59. Unfortunately, we can't make the uncommon or missing birds we want to see appear on demand and overall it has been a good season for TR birders.

We had some good opportunities to improve identification skills on the Tuesday morning bird walks and with several of us seeing "lifers." That is the first sighting of a species. No surprise that birders then make an appropriate entry in their life-list notebook or computer. Similarly, we all like to add new birds to our TR January to March season total which, overall, will stand around 112 at the end of the month. The good news is that our birding pattern is in line with other areas of central Florida and we can hope to see some of our missing birds next year. Why not plan to join us for our 60-90 minute walk around the peaceful lake and garden area?

The small sparrow or warbler sized birds are frequently the most difficult to identify as they don't keep still and are frequently high up in the tree canopy. Next year we hope to have a great opportunity to see and identify more small birds. There is a plan developing to erect several feeding stations close by optimum habitats in The Garden and at either end of Vanishing Lake. It may be possible to have a seat there to enjoy great relaxed birding at any time not just Tuesdays.

Peg Stevens has written some separate notes on our second field trip this year to Circle B Bar reserve in Lakeland. Some 23 TR birders enjoyed a two-hour tram trip with commentaries from very knowledgeable volunteer guides. Walking access to the trails is year-round, entrance is free and there is a good nature center.

Google Circle B Bar for information and if you wish to reserve a tram ride, then a phone call is needed to (868)668-4673. Ext 205 for individual rides and 209 for groups.

Once you have become a birder, learning more of behavior becomes fascinating. Last Tuesday we watched the Vanishing Lake Sandhill family for some time. Then we moved on towards the Cabanas where we stopped to look for a Pileated Woodpecker.

Soon the four cranes were following and headed straight for us until quite close when they circled around us to resume their direct line to Richard Fischer's feeding station.

They knew exactly where they were headed and they only allowed the chicks a few minutes there before moving on. They don't want the youngsters to become dependent on feeder food. They do the same every morning.

We have seen some really good 'best birds' this year, mostly ones that will not be seen in the mid-west and northern states or Canada.

Always qualifying are the brilliantly colored Painted Bunting and the dramatic Swallow-tailed Kite. This year, the three first sightings for the TR winter season list are Summer Tanager, Rufous Hummingbird and Green Heron. Summaries are on the Busch Hall board.

Good birding wherever you are through the summer months.

Getting ready for summer

by Leslie Ewing

Garden Club members will soon be heading north for the summer. We have already begun removing the art in the garden.

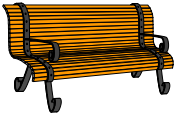

The Garden Club takes care of the azaleas that surround the Snack Shack, plus the hanging baskets at the shelter and the garden on the south side of the Snack Shack. For the current season, Margaret Bergsma has been in charge of these areas, as well as the potted plants on the shelves on the east side of the Shack that are viewed from the shelter.

The hanging baskets and the potted plants will be removed once the Snack Shack closes for the season. We do this for safety reasons in the event of damaging winds.

TR residents are urged to likewise remove potted plants from their lots for the summer or arrange for someone to handle this for them.

The shelves and potted plants are maintained in honor of Helen Villazon, who was an active Garden Club member until she suddenly passed away in June 2018.

Helen made an impact for the few years that she was a resident. She helped to care for the Snack Shack garden and to prune the azaleas. She planted and maintained some of the bromeliads in the TR Garden. She is also remembered for her sketches of residents' pets. A bench in her honor has been placed near the bromeliads. Helen was a gentle soul and is missed.

Even as the club is gearing down for the summer, residents and guests are encouraged to visit and enjoy the garden. There are white stone benches and a table on the lower lawn by Lake Margaret which would be perfect for a picnic. The Nun's Orchid is especially beautiful right now. Look for it on the side of the boardwalk opposite the banana plants. The club asks residents to not place potted plants in the garden over the summer. No club members are here to take care of them. They present a safety issue as they can be tossed during damaging winds. It makes for more work for club members who return for the next season. These plants usually don't survive the summer and then we have to dispose of them.

Officers for the next season are Richard Fischer, President; Leslie Ewing, Vice-President; Linda Jackson, Secretary and Margaret Bergsma, Treasurer. Have a great summer, and stay safe. We look forward to seeing everybody in the garden next season.

Birding Activity enjoyed a field trip

by Peg Stevens

On Friday, March 6 about 23 members of the TR Birding Activity went to Lakeland near Lake Hancock to tour the Circle B Bar Reserve. That is a large area that once was a natural Florida wetland of 1267 acres. In 1927 it was drained and turned into a cattle ranch. That lasted until 2000 when the area was bought by the Polk County Board of Commissioners and Southwest Florida Water Management District. They began a project aimed at turning the acreage back to a natural wetland (a large marsh) with an environment that is serviceable to the birds and wildlife natural to the area including wild turkey, bobcat, grey fox and others.

Much of the work has been done by volunteers in all phases of the project to make it feel like a state park. This sounds familiar to TR! The volunteers love sharing their knowledge. Many miles of nature trails now wander through the area called Banana Creek Marsh.

Our group had a tram ride of about two hours around the ponds with two volunteers who told us all about the park and its construction. One of them shared large photos of all the birds we were able to see up close as we rode along the trails. It was thrilling to be only three or four feet away from an Ibis or an Anhinga or Herons or Egrets as we passed along the way. The birds and several alligators we saw seem to be used to the trams and hikers being close. They didn't startle into flying or swimming away as the tram went by. Marvelous up-close views were had by all. We counted about 25 species of birds, a good number for two hours viewing.

One of the most popular views was the Bald Eagle nest in the crook of a Long Needle Pine tree at the far edge of one of the last ponds. One of the adult birds was very visible, perched at the side of the giant nest as the sun shone on its pure white head. We were told that nest has been there about 10 years, home to a pair of eagles breeding each season.

That was a good way to end our tour and the tram group was taken back to the starting point near the Visitors Center and the classrooms used for teaching school children about the preserve.

There were no fees charged for our use of the preserve, nor for parking or the tram ride. Donations are welcome. You do need to make arrangements for the tram tour in advance of your arrival.

Call Charlene Brutton at 563-663-4673, ext. 209. Circle B Bar Reserve, 4399 Winter Road, Lakeland, Fla.

The tram ride provided lots of opportunities to view the wildlife. At right is a Great Blue Heron with its catch of the day.

Library News

by Mary Kosbab

This is my yearly thank you to all whose efforts make our book and media collection such a viable part of TR.

First and foremost I want to thank all the volunteers who work in the library. As I have said many times in the past our staff is like a silent army. We often do not see each other until our monthly meeting and maybe not even then. But the library work gets done quietly and efficiently because of their dedication.

What do volunteers do? They process donations, check publishing dates and check for duplicates. They then put stickers on the spines to help users find books they would like. They put comment slips inside and a colored slip sticking out which tells all that this book was donated during this season. Each volunteer also has chosen a section of the fiction collection and one or two sections of the non-fiction section. They keep track of these sections, keeping the shelves from becoming too crowded, repairing labels on the spine and making sure books are in the correct place.

Volunteers either come in at a scheduled time each week or stop in to check whenever passing to see if something needs to be done. That, along with your help in re-shelving your own books, is why the library always looks so good.

They are a great group of volunteers whose efforts I, and I know all TR library users, greatly appreciate.

A special thanks goes to Patti Meadows who writes the New Books to TR column for The TR Times. This helps inform you about new books in our library. I appreciate her willingness to do this.

I also want to thank my husband who made the new pet book bookcase, the Dr. Seuss bulletin board and the DVD shelves for us. He also raised the book cart inside the door so non-fiction books can be viewed easier. He is definitely our "undercover library volunteer" who makes it possible for us to make the changes and improvements we do.

Again a big thank you to everyone who donates books, DVDs and CDs. That is what keeps our collection active and up to date.

Last but definitely not least, a big thank you to all who donate to our treasury whether with cash donations, buying a TR Book Buddy or supporting our yard sale table.

Our library stays open all year long. There is a skeleton crew of volunteers who continue doing the above jobs all summer. We greatly appreciate all they do.

The saying "It takes a village" is certainly true with our library. All the volunteers, the donations and your usage of the library are what helps us become, as a visitor from Golf View said to me, a totally unexpected little jewel of a library.

The entire library staff wishes everyone a safe trip home and a wonderful summer.

Pets on Parade

KILLER

by Judy Leister

I'm sure those of you who travel up and down 14th St. have seen an adorable chubby pooch with rather short legs and a longer body laying in the yard taking in the Florida sunshine and watching the world go by. That would be Killer. He belongs to Sylvia and Bruce Cole. Killer is 14 years old and has been coming to TR 10 of those years.

Actually the Coles have been escaping Canadian winters and coming to TR for 11 years but they decided to leave Killer at home for their very first adventure here. I think Killer had other plans. He wanted to come along too. A house sitter was hired to stay with the bouncy young dog but Killer was not a happy camper and ate everything in sight. Oops, that definitely wasn't in the plan. The house sitter tried taking Killer to his home but that resulted in several poop accidents which put an end to the idea of leaving Killer back in Canada for future trips to Florida. Needless to say, Killer came to TR the next season and has returned every year since.

I had to ask how this sweet little dog got the name Killer. Sylvia explained that their grandchildren had a lot to do with them getting this dog and naming him too. Killer's mother is a pure bred Corgi who was a bit footloose and fancy free. She had the run of a touristy fishing community near their home in Canada and it didn't take long for her to find an unknown doggie boyfriend and have puppies. The Cole's grandchildren, who live near them saw the puppies and knew the one they picked out had to be with their grandparents. Many kids have special names for their grandmas and grandpas. In this case Sylvia is "Old Nan" and Bruce is "Deisch" and in their eyes this puppy had to be with Deisch and be named Killer. The name stuck. The moment Deisch held the puppy he too knew it had to be his.

I asked if Killer had any favorite toys in his younger years and Sylvia shared with me how he once took over one of their granddaughter's dolls for his own. She wanted it back but he insisted it was his. She finally resigned herself to the fact that her doll baby belonged to Killer. He slept with it for years and years.

When the Coles are not at TR they are at their north shore home on Prince Edward Island, Canada. Living right on Thunder Cove Beach they have lovely places to stroll. In his younger years Killer loved his daily walks on the beach, chasing balls and swimming in the salt water. Today, at 14 he prefers laying in the yard sunbathing. His eyesight is failing and he now uses a ramp to get up the steps to the front door but he still has a wonderful appetite, good overall health and continues to be very affectionate.

Pet Lovers Club

See you next season!

by Tia Paquette

Another season quickly comes to an end, I always look back and try to take some positive learning lesson and apply it to my dog. Bailey is a challenging dog, but I sure learn lots! He still does not like dogs he does not know, but once he meets them a few times he is their friend for life. I learned that a first initial greeting has to be nose to butt and very short. This allows the dogs to not engage in dominance games. Usually Bailey needs only two introductions then he is a friend. So remembering dogs on leashes puts them in defence mode, when introducing strange dogs make sure first they are friendly, then make it a short introduction and move on.

We, at Pet Lovers Club, need some input for ideas for next season. Please make suggestions, we relish your ideas and any help you may offer. We are a fun group and the pets get a richer life because of our resources and support.

Do not forget our last activity for this season, Dog Days in Dade City, Saturday, March 21. In Agnes Park from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Come and have a few laughs and try out our TR famous Poop toss! Don't forget to bring Fido and you may even win a prize! Judy Leister will be there with some great volunteers!

Have a safe and happy summer. Until we meet again... lots of wags.

Sports

See you next year

by George Paquette

Well here I am writing the final article for The TR Times this year. Where has the time gone? We're just so busy here at TR that the days, weeks and months just fly by. By all accounts the weather this winter, as it is most winters, has been great. It's sometimes easy to forget how lucky we are to be able to spend our winters here with the warm weather and in the company of good friends and neighbors. So what about the golf course? Wasn't it just beautiful this year! Everyone I played with commented the course was looking great. Of course there's always room for improvement but overall the course was in good shape. Of course the volunteers make the difference. The Beautification Team did a wonderful job with new trees planted, gardens enhanced and maintained as well as a number of potted plants strategically located to enhance the beauty of our course. If you looked around, volunteers were working hard every Tuesday to ensure the course was in top shape. This included the maintenance of tee boxes, placement of pins on the green and divot repair. Then there are the volunteers that keep the driving range up to snuff. Balls are washed every night, carpets are swept and the grass portion of the driving range where golfers hit their balls, is regularly seeded for best performance. We can't forget our golf instructors available every Tuesday morning to initiate, encourage and help golf students improve their game. The fundraisers, like the annual spaghetti dinner, the ladies bake sale and the Saturday Scrambles are a huge contribution to the quality of our course.

I'm sure I've missed a number of dedicated volunteers that quietly and with little recognition, make our golf course run smoothly. Volunteers are the heart and soul of Travelers Rest throughout the park. Whoever you are, know that your efforts are appreciated and we simply wouldn't have this wonderful oasis in the sun if it wasn't for you. On behalf of the Golf Association and everyone here at Travelers Rest Resort a big THANK YOU for all you do!

On that note, I think we also need to recognize the hard work that the TRGA and the TR Board members as well as General Manager Ray Hill and his team, put into providing the services we receive and the environment we enjoy. These folks put in copious hours ensuring that all is in place for our enjoyment and safety and I think that sometimes we take them for granted. Although it is our responsibility to review and critique their decisions, we also need to recognize that they are our friends and neighbors and that they deserve our support and encouragement.

So there you have it. Keep well, stay safe and we'll see you all back here next fall. Cheers

Men's Golf League results from March 12

Today we had our Annual Men's League "Hide the Tee-Box" game. A special thanks to Frank Magalski who took the lead for this game. The Men's League at TR would like to extend a huge THANK YOU to Frank for all he has done through the years. I would like to extend a special thanks to Frank's helpers, Dave Adams and Lloyd Marsh.

We had 44 players show up for what was quoted as "A great time by all." What a beautiful day weather-wise. Thank you to all of you that participated in bidding farewell to Frank.

Glow Ball Golf Night

by Bill Buczek

We had the third Glow Ball Golf event of the season Thursday night, March 12. We had 32 people come to play on a nice, warm, clear evening. There were cookies, brownies and hot chocolate and fun was had by all. Two teams tied at 31 for low score of the evening. The winning teams were: team 8-Janet Beisel, Rich Beisel, Pat Markle and Don Markle; team 9-Ken Neer, Steve Wilson, Wayne Schacht and Ron Lewis.

Thank you to Lin Buczek, Steve Wilson, Lynette Wilson, Frank Magalski, Diane Phillips and Bob Phillips for your help with set up and tear down. Also, thank you to Carol Schell for donating the brownies!

The next Glow Ball Golf Night is tentatively scheduled for Thursday Jan. 7, 2021, weather permitting. Thanks to all who participated in this year's Glow Ball Golf to make it a success. Hope to see you next season!

RC Car Race results

Another season of the TR Motorsports RC Club has come to an end. Congratulation to Steve Laymon for taking first place in overall points for the season. I am proud to say the club has almost tripled in size this year with 31 racers participating and more are expected for next year.

We had a ton of laughs this season, and all the spectators definitely enjoyed the races and crashes.

Grabbing lunch at the Snack Shack, and watching the grandkids racing the cars afterwards was just an added bonus! The new drivers stand worked out great. Thanks again to the park for building that last summer. We will be completing some additional upgrades to the track this summer, and we're already looking forward to next year's season.

Have a great summer everyone!

On the ball

by Pat Anderson

Another year of Ladies Golf is over. It was a great year with lots of new members joining our ranks. Our new officers are Chair Pat Butler, Co-Chair Laurie Gardner, Secretary Beannie Wise and Treasurer Arlene Wykoff. Please join me in welcoming them into their new positions.

We had two bake sales this year. They raised over $800. Thank you TR for supporting these important fundraisers for course beautification.

Every year we calculate everyone's golf scores to determine the Season Low Gross Average. Again this year Sylvia Cole won the honor. Her average gross score for the season was 38.63. Her lowest score was 35 and her highest score was 41. Congratulations Sylvia.

PAT ANDERSON

This is my last article for the On The Ball. Laurie Zentmyer will be taking over next season.

I want to thank everyone for their kindness and smiles this past year. Good bye, safe travels.

How Bridge Class saved The TR Times

Hearing loss can lead to depression

by John Lawrence

Let's face it, no one wants to wear hearing aids. They are big and ugly and they make us look old. However some of us really need them and the new technology can make them invisible.

We were fortunate to have two Doctors of Audiology present the seminar on the ramifications of hearing disorders. Doctors Sierra McDonald and Jennifer Miller emphasized the importance of getting your hearing tested at least once every year as we get older. Most insurance plans now offer some coverage for the test as well as the aids. Loss of hearing can lead to isolation and eventually to anxiety, depression and even dementia. It also significantly increases your risk of falling and suffering bone fractures.

It is currently estimated that more than 27 million Americans age 50 and older have hearing loss, but only one in seven uses a hearing aid. You are three to five times more likely to get dementia when you have a moderate to severe hearing loss that is untreated. Diabetics have twice the risk of hearing loss. Even having pre-diabetes increases the risk by 30 percent. Heart disease also increases the risk of hearing loss. In short, it is of vital importance to have your hearing ability tested.

It is also important to have the test done by a medical professional; they have the medical background and knowledge of how hearing affects the entire body. Many brands of hearing aids have testing done by persons with sales backgrounds.

There are many types of hearing aids on the market today. After a thorough checkup the doctor can recommend which aid will give you the best results for your lifestyle. It is important to get your hearing checked early. Do not wait until it becomes a problem. Vertigo (benign paroxysmal positional vertigo) is an inner ear problem that can be helped by using various techniques such as the Epley maneuver. Although there is no cure for tinnitus, using a hearing aid helps to mask the noise.

Hearing aids are rechargeable as well as battery operated. They can be wirelessly tuned in to your TV and computer for streaming. They can be wirelessly controlled by your cell phone. You can tune in to streaming music and they can be programmed so that you can hear better in a noisy environment.

The doctors' office is in nearby Wesley Chapel and you can look them up at www.floridamedicalclinic.com/audiology.

by Mary Kosbab

It was toward the end of our first season at TR. I had met Janet Schroeder at the pool and one day she asked me if I would be interested in working at The TR Times. The paper had intrigued me from the day we received our first copy on The Hill; however when I learned why I was being recruited, I had reservations.

Ruth Wirtz had just retired from being editor of the newspaper. Larry and Jeanette Halliday had taken over production of the paper. It was going from a "cut and paste" format to being computer generated. Most of the staff were leaving because they were uncomfortable with the change to computers. Being much younger then, I'm sure Janet thought I knew something about computers. Unfortunately I was one of the least knowledgeable people she could pick. However I said I would try. This was in the spring of the year and we were getting ready to head north.

It so happened that my husband and I had decided to take bridge lessons that year and the first people we had met walking one point just after being recruited by Janet, I was lamenting how little I knew about computers. Jane mentioned that both she and Bill were knowledgeable about computers and offered me help if I needed it. That was like a gift from heaven. Unfortunately it was about the end of that season. The following season it was necessary for them to stay in Canada for health reasons.

Jeannette Halliday, Marilyn Pender and I persevered through the following year although it was a struggle for me with my limited knowledge of computers. Jane I and kept in touch via e-mail and in one I asked her if she would be interested in joining the newspaper staff the following year. She wrote back that she would and not only did The TR Times get the expert services of Jane but also Bill who became involved as well. And for all who know just how much both Jane and Bill have done for The TR Times, over the years I think I can just say "And the rest is history."

The first major improvement they did was to make the Pagemaker program adaptable for those of us with little computer experience. Gradually they became involved in all aspects of the paper. Not only did they hold classes for us to learn how to use Pagemaker but they were and since

Jane has been Production Manager for many years now. She has an unbelievable knack for seeing how pages can be laid out. When there is a hole that needs to be filled, she can judge just by looking at the original write-up if it will fit. And it does!

Anyone closely associated with the paper knows how much time and effort both Jane and Bill have given and continue to give the paper. They are the true backbone of our weekly miracle.

Margaret Emmetts stepped in as Editor when the need arose. Not only has she done a great job in that capacity, she is our "go-to person" when we need a filler written. There is no one like her to sit down and whip up a half page filler in a matter of minutes.

In the past few years many new people have joined the staff. They are computer-savvy and knowledgeable and add new life and perspective to the paper. They definitely have become an integral part of the current paper and are the hope for the future of the paper.

Richard Kushman came this year and taught us how to use the Affinity program instead of Pagemaker to lay out the paper. He has come in every day to help anyone with questions and also to help layout the paper.

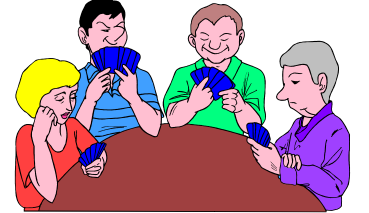

There are the countless others who do the many jobs necessary to get the paper out every week. Their names are listed on the Masthead of the paper on Page 4.

I think these are some good examples of how things at TR work. People show up to help and become an integral part of the activity they join. That is how all our activities thrive.

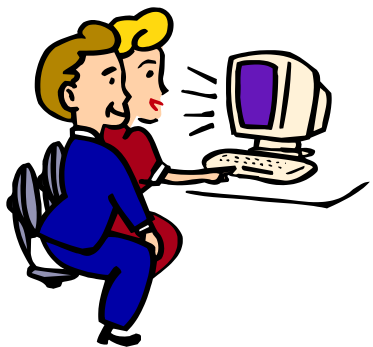

But I will always contend that that fateful meeting in Beginners' Bridge Class was what ultimately saved The TR Times at a very crucial point in its history.

into the Hobby House for lessons were Bill and Jane Harrold. We ended up sitting at the same table and found ourselves doing so for the remainder of the lessons. At then always have been there to help those of us with lesser computer knowledge.

I'm a volunteer

by Betsy Behler

I believe everyone at one time or another has been a volunteer. Travelers Rest was founded by many hard-working volunteers. There are volunteers at the TR Times newspaper, at the Post Office and just about anywhere you look. Due to health reasons I have not been able to do all that I'd like to do this past season but what I can do I have done. My job is to oversee the Bulletin Boards in Busch Hall and the Post Office. Basically this is a simple job, just check to see that ads are the proper size and that the different organizations have a spot for their activities but it is a job that needs to be done.

This past month Activity Coordinator Jeri Miller sent out forms for volunteers to sign up for next season. I hope that those who have done activities this season will be able to sign up for next season. For those of you who would like to volunteer, please contact Jeri Miller at 352-588-5448. I'm sure she'd be thrilled for anything you can do.

Remember, for all things happening, someone has to help organize and oversee them. Be it weeding the beautiful gardens, scheduling golfing times or parking units. The list goes on and on. Many hands make light work. We can all help by being friendly, helping where help is needed and just being happy campers and sharing our happiness with others. Have a safe and happy summer, see you next season and consider being a volunteer.
